Did you know the great majority of Australian bees are soil nesting?

- A location with permanently undisturbed soil will provide them with more nesting and breeding opportunities on your farm.
- Farming practices that inhibit or destroy nests, like extensive ploughing should be avoided in these selected nesting areas.
- Set aside some semi-bare, permanently untilled ground, especially near water bodies such as dams and creeks.

For more information...
www.centraltablelands.lls.nsw.gov.au

facebook.com/CentralTablelandsLLS
twitter.com/CTablelandsLLS